WUFFLI'S BATTING FEATURE

Barham Displays Staminia in Sticking Throughout Hot Struggle.

By CHARLES J. BRILL.
Arriving ferociously the offerings of Bill Jackson's very best flingers, the Tulsa Oilers yesterday clouted their way to a 10-to-4 victory over the Nebrascans at McNulty park. For five innings it was a fiercely fought contest, the two sides fighting furiously to have the inside, charging forward, but once Jack Davis had definitely decided which way the game was to go by parking the ball in the sixth with bases loaded, the game lagged and dragged, and was filled with wrangling. During one of these assaults of wrangling, Umpire Holmes chased Shinkie to the clubhouse.

The work of three men stands out prominently in connection with this much-needed victory. Chief of these is Johnny Wuffli, the little bad-off man, who secured two singles, a double and triple and single and home. Duits also, with his hitting and four assists, and his batting was not far behind a feature as was that of Wuffli or Davis, the latter getting the victory.

White Davis and Davis and Duits and Thomassen were leading the attack. Wayne Barham deserved great credit for the way he stuck to his task and turned back all the challenges. The work was not so effective, however, as it had been a few days previous, when he shut out St. Louis 6 to 0, but he worked the same game yesterday in a withering heat that sapped his strength and made his achievement really remarkable. Although he yielded 14 hits, nine of them were of the scratch variety.

Although Gissason led off with a single and Jackson followed him with a wild, Omaha could not score in the first round, but Tulsa did in a couple.

Wuffli opened the home half with a hit through third. The opposition expected Shatterly to follow up, but instead he captured a hit into left. The bases were loaded when Wuffli got out an infield hit. Wuffli scored on Thomason's safe bunt and Shatterly followed him over when Barham made a bad peg to first.

Tulsa got their first run in the second and when, with the bases loaded, Jackson took one in the leg, he was off base immediately on Mason's error. O'Brien's roller, O'Brien's error, Wuffli's triple.

In the third the invaders pulled even only to have the locals come back with a couple more in their turn at the plate and added another in the fourth when Wuffli doubled, scored and scored on Davis' error.

The game was saved in the sixth when, with a single, his sacrifice but was caught on Duits' grounders. Thomason followed Duits with a single and both moved up on a wild pitch. A base on balls was awarded and a base on balls followed. The call was two and three on Davis, when Shinkie put one down the groove and Davis cracked it over the fence.
